Electrical and Computer Engineering Student

Bereket Elias

Professional Summary

My name is Bereket Elias, a 4th-year Electrical and Computer Engineering student specializing in Computer Engineering at Addis Ababa Science and Technology University. I have a strong interest in ICT, computer networks, and IoT systems, with practical experience in network design and simulation using Cisco Packet Tracer. I hold a CCNA certification, which has strengthened my understanding of networking fundamentals, troubleshooting, and system design. I am focused on applying my skills in real-world engineering and technology projects.
